FARMS FOR SALE.

W.H. Hooper offers the N.E. 1/3-35-19 on Lake Clement, upon which is a stone stable 60x32, a granary of 8000 bushels capacity; a good farm house, well and pump, the Lake front under wire fence, and enough young timber to more than pay for the place. The trees for transplanting can be sold at 50 cents each, and there is a sure and growing demand. This particular quarter is suitable, and can be made at once a popular summer resort. The land is of the best quality, and will be left summer-fallow.

Also the W 1/3-35-19 upon which are 260 acres freshly broken and will be backset. The breaking was done before the rains, and will be in a particularly fine condition for next year's crop. There is perhaps nowhere in this vicinity, so large an area of beautiful black land, trending away to the north, and with a gentle incline just sufficient for drainage. South of the breaking and backing it, are the Brandon Hills, and some beautiful ravines sufficiently large to grow market stuff enough to supply the city of Brandon. Cherries, Saskatoons, Cranberries and Hops abound in these ravines, and 500 head of stock could be wintered without other than the natural protection.

One of the hills, or more properly Mountains, is the highest in the Range and the prospect from the Peak is well worth the trouble of inspection, and ought to be one of the points of interest to Tourists.

Irrigation, while imperfectly understood in the main, and lightly disposed of by those unacquainted with its workings, will in the immediate future be introduced in farming in this country.

There is a flowing well at the foot of the range, of beautiful, sparkling water, cold as glacier rills, sufficient in volume not only to irrigate the 260 acres beneath it, but the entire valley.

These properties will be sold at figures that the first crop will pay for.

Foot Ball.

The Poplar Hill Foot Ball Team visited Roseville on Thursday evening, July 16th, and played a friendly game with the Roseville team of that place. It was a pleasant evening and the game was very exciting. The loud shouts of the players mingled in sweet harmony with the soft and soothing buzz of the myriads of mosquitoes, which turned out to see the match, but just what particular right they have to attend a foot ball match without an invitation, your correspondent is unable to comprehend. However, they did not materially interfere with the game, and for the space of one hour and a half the boys kept the ball rolling. The game throughout was in favor of Poplar Hill and closed by the securing one goal to none.

After all was over a bountiful repast was provided for the visitors at the residence of Mr. Pierson and after doing some justice to the savory viands the boys returned home "as happy as a clam when the tide is an ebb."

The return match will be played at Mosquito Grove just back of Mr. Postlewaite's house. A good game is expected.

DOUGLASS.

Messrs. Greenwood & Colquhoun left for Ontario last week intending to bring out another car of horses.

The Moguls regret that through some misunderstanding they were unable to meet the Rugby boys at Chatter last week.

The Invincible B.B.C. held their annual picnic at Glenbourne last week at which the Moguls were asked to play a friendly game. The picnic was a success, but the chief attraction was the ball match in which Douglas won by 2 runs.

The game was most friendly throughout, and our boys speak highly of the manner in which they were treated.

The sad news of Mr. J. Lockridge's death was announced here on Saturday last. Since meeting with the accident which has ultimately caused his death, deep interest has been taken in his illness by his many friends in this vicinity.

Now since his intense sufferings have been so mercifully ended, we cheerfully extend our warmest sympathies to those he leaves to mourn his untimely end.

The new Lake of the Woods elevator which has been building here for the past two weeks was finished on Thursday last, under the supervision of Mr. Stevens. The rapidity and general excellence of the work reflects credit upon the ability of the above gentleman.

The Douglassites held a picnic on the banks of the Assiniboine last Thursday which eclipsed all previous ones. After a pleasant drive, dinner was served by the ladies in the usual palatial style, and in a reasonable length of time considering the appetites of all. A game of ball was started between the married and single ladies, each being assisted by an equal number of gentlemen. The married ladies were captained by Mr. J. H. Thompson while the interests of the opposition were looked after by the Rev. Mr. Hornman. Mr. Thompson's team proved too strong for the young ladies from the start owing to the superior playing of Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Bousfield, while they won by a score of 4-17. Some of the ladies wonder who likes lemon pie and did not get any. No doubt some people are too "Sharp."

Case of Love at First Sight

Toronto, July 6.—Miss Myra Hurrell, who a couple of years ago got a verdict of $3,000 damages against Thos. O'Callaghan, of London, for breach of promise, was married this week to William Stephenson, of Winnipeg. "Over a year ago, by some coincidence," says local paper, "the two repaired to a colored neomancer in Hamilton. There they met. It was a case of love at first sight for the groom. He received the young lady's address and called upon her shortly afterwards. Whether or not Stephenson was the one pursued by the fortunate teller as the neomancer of Myra's affections is not known, but in a short time he became so and yesterday they were married."

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1891.

The Winnipeg Tribune, with its usual disregard for fair play and truthfulness, has stated that Mr. Daly in his speech in the House on Mr. Laurier's motion to adjourn on 22nd. of June "declared in fa-

From a perusal of this speech it will be seen that all Mr. Daly contends is that a spirit of toleration exists in Manitoba and the Northwest, which apparently does not exist in Ontario. We are sure that no one can take exception to the position taken by Mr. Daly, and that neither the "Tribune Avasians," nor any one else can utterance one sentence in this speech into the position sought, namely, that Mr. Daly is in favour of separate schools. As the matter is before the Supreme Court a discussion of the main issue would be out of place at this time. We leave the truthful (?) Tribune man to his occupation of "extracting cucumbers out of sunbeams."

The Greenwytie papers of the Province are spinning under the result of the $500 a mile libel suit, and twisting their ingenuity for excuses. If Justice Kilham were only a Conservative, the question would be solved at once, as they would throw the whole blame upon his political proclivities, as, however, he is a Liberal, fortunately for himself, he will escape the on-pour of their filthy vessels. An excuse, however, must be got, anything but the right course, and like a "claphunt in search of a father" they are scouring the country for one. The Portage Liberal, owned and edited by Mr. Martin's law partner seems to be away the most anxious of the craft, and it is but little wonder. That suit has shattered the last fragment of Martin's much tottered Government, and an excuse must be found for its rehabilitation. But the thing can't be done. Now, supposing Martin was as honest a man as the Liberal desires the people to think he is and supposing Greenwyties of the Legislature were as honest as their press would have the public believe they are, how can that $500 a mile be explained? At best so far all the items named I am to be paid for out of that money are organization expenses, printing, bonds and advertising, which, all told, could not cost $5,000, while the $500 a mile for the 220 miles of road covered by the contract would have amounted to at least $110,000. Now what was to be done with the remaining $110,000? This is the question the people desire to have answered. The school boy answer of "I didn't mean to do it" will never be accepted by men who have come to the years of understanding. The electors want an explanation as to what was done with the $110,000 if it was not to go into the hands of Joseph Martin and Co. in matter what their protestations of innocence may be. In the libel suits that have hitherto taken place, railway men of repute have declared that such a clause has in a contract heretofore been unknown. In R. R. companies' cases for a bonus without any etceteras, and when they get them they go on and build the road. Martin and Co., with the N. P. people, have, however, inaugurated a new order of things—they want $110,000 for etceteras, and the public are to take the bare word of besmirched ministers and their supporters that the money was to be expended honestly. As fortune would have it however, there are affidavits on this matter. In his evidence in the libel suit the other day, Dr. Haggerty, a townsman of Mr. Martin's said "he remembered having a conversation with Mr. Martin about this contract, on that occasion he asked plaintiff (Martin) about the $500 a mile; plaintiff said there was nothing wrong about it. The Northern Pacific men lived away in New York, and the promoters living in the province, among them some prominent

Now, in his evidence, Mr. Robin declared in caucus how Campbell, Fisher, A. F. Martin, Jones, he and others protested against this clause, but there was no word of Mr. Siftso; so, that gentleman was looking for a portfolio in the Cabinet, and could not afford to break with the Government, no matter what the consequences were. The question now is will the electors of North Brandon condone this all or will they resent it at the polls? The matter rests in their hands alone.

Mr. Daly's Speech on June 22nd.

Mr. DAVID. I was not by my intention to have taken part in this discussion, and I would not have done so, except for the religious phase introduced by hon. gentlemen opposite. I desire to say, as a member coming from the western portion of the Dominion, that so far as I am personally concerned I would be perfectly willing to follow the leadership of John Thompson, and I would like to see my colleagues on this side of the House from the Province of Manitoba, and members from the North-West Territories and British Columbia with whom I have conversed on the subject, I may say that everyone of them would have been only too proud to follow the leadership of the Minister of Justice. I am glad to say that in the great country from which I come, where everything is so free, I personally would not have any religious objections and discuss them in the same manner as do the people in other provinces, particularly in Ontario. In Manitoba religious toleration has existed since the inception of the Province. In that province we have a university which sets an example to the people of the Dominion. We have as its Chancellor the Hon. and Bishop of Regina, and for its chancery clerk, Mr. Bernier, a Roman Catholic Frenchman, and upon the board of management we have representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, Methodist Church, Baptist Church, Presbyterian Church and Church of England, and these men sit together, and have sat together since 1871, when the university was established, and I am sure that it is only in what I contend is one of the greatest principles, and that is one of religious toleration. It was not until the unfortunate occurrence took place in this House a few years ago when the hon. member for Simcoe (Mr. McCarthy) introduced a motion in regard to the Jesuit question that the subject of religious toleration was brought up. The record made by the hon. member for Ottawa county (Mr. Devlin) did not come with very good grace from him, for he must recollect the position of the Liberal party in Manitoba on the school question. He must remember that the Roman Catholics in Manitoba have enjoyed the right of separate schools since the year 1880. The question as to their rights under the Act had never come into question and had never been discussed. It was left to a Liberal Government, at the head of which is Mr. Greenway, a gentleman who supported the hon. gentlemen in this House before he went to Manitoba, who obtained the support of the hon. gentleman opposite and who was supported by the sole and only Liberal representative west of Lake Superior, and for Mr. Martin who was my opponent in the last election, to introduce the first and only question of religion ever brought into public matters in that Province. I regret to say that although the Roman Catholics have enjoyed separate schools since 1880, Mr. Martin saw fit to disregard the rights those people enjoyed and regardless of the fact that these were constitutional rights, to set in a harsh and unseemly manner. He did not wish to consult the people and ask their opinion. There was not a single Abbott. I will not take the time of the House further than to say that, so far as I and my colleagues from the west of Lake Superior are concerned, we will support Mr. Abbott as the best leader, say John A. Macdonald. I want my friends on the other side of the House to understand that the Conservative membership west of Lake Superior—and I take care of liberty of speaking for them—will not seek office, and that they are not now seeking for office, and they are not stand firmly by the great principle of the Conservative party. The will of Mr. Abbott as leader of the Conservative party and if he should choose to hold office, I will support him, and I know how holds, and if the Minister will, I will support him. I will support him as the responsible justice that office I tender to that nobility of man the same hearty support as gentlemen who are separated from our midst, but who is spirit and whose policy remains with us.

Carmen Sylva, the Peer-Queen.
The life of Carmen Sylva is more interesting than that of most Queens, because she would have been more interesting than most women if she had not been a Queen. It is a fascinating little tale told by the Baroness Stackelberg of her running away when she was a little girl to go to school with the balliads' children. There was the small poet's democracy. She wrote verses when she was ten years old, and boldly began a novel at twelve. She wished to know a great deal, to be able to pass difficult examinations, and she achieved it. Carmen Sylva knows languages and history and literature and geography and science well enough to hold her own with the cleverest sophomore girl to be found in any college within two hundred miles of Naples.

The trunk of a rose bush which is now in full bloom in Ventura, Cal., is 3 feet in circumference at the ground; the first branch, which is thrown out at a height of about four feet from the ground, is 21 inches in circumference. Wagon-loads of vines (it is of the climbing variety) are clipped from it annually, yet it covers an area of 1,300 square feet. It was planted in 1876. Within another fourteen years, if nothing happens to it, it will have outstripped the gigantic rose tree at Cologne, which has had over three hundred years to grow in.

Experimental Farm.

The following notes taken by our reporter during the past week will be of great interest to the community at large especially the farmers. There are at present over 250 plots in grain on this farm which include tests in thick and thin sowing, different manners of sowing, dates of sowing, selected and unselected seeds, etc.

WHEAT.

We noticed four plots of half acre each, which will be very interesting.

- 1 Spring plowing.
- 2 Sown on burnt prairie by drill.
- 3 Disc, harrowed in on burnt prairie.
- 4 Disc, harrowed in without burning stubble.

The difference is very great indeed in these plots, and is greatly in favor of spring plowing, which is very luxuriant, and also earlier being at present in its full head. It measures 2 ft. 5 in. while the other plots measure about 18 inches. The spring plowing is absolutely free from weeds while the others are very weedy and uneven. The four plots were sown on the same day, on adjoining plots with the same kind of wheat. We also noticed another interesting experiment in summer fallow. Plot No. 1 was fallowed in June, plot No. 2 in July, and plot No. 3 was plowed twice during the summer. There is apparently very little difference in these plots, but the plot that was plowed twice is slightly earlier than the others. The Ladoga wheat measures five feet in its full head. Old Red River, Prince of Wales, and in full blossom. Campbell's white chaff which is at present the leading spring wheat in Ontario is in full blossom and looks exceedingly well. The Chilian white imported from Chili is also in full blossom and seems to do well. The Wellman's Fyfe which is an improved Red Fyfe looks splendid and has head measuring 6 inches long. The Assiniboine, a bearded wheat, which was originated in the Territories is also in blossom. The Hard Red Calcutta is the earliest wheat on the farm, having headed out on the 22nd of June and generally ripens about 14 days earlier than the Red Fyfe, although it is not of so good a quality as the latter. The largest plot of wheat is of Red Fyfe, which comprises about sixty acres, and looks well, and measures 4 feet 6 inches and is nearly in full head.

BARLEY.

The barley crop never looked better, and promises to give a big yield. The Wagon's Chevalier which has taken the first prize at the Brewers' exhibition in London, Eng. for the last four years, measures 4 feet. Duckbill, Ontario, measures 4 feet. California, a two rowed looks well. Danish Chevalier an import from Denmark, gives 40 bushels to the acre last year, promises to give a larger yield. The Odessa, six rowed, gave 68 bushels last year and the expectations are it will be more this year. Common Canadian also looks well.

GRASSES AND FODDER PLANTS.

The most prominent are our native grasses. There are about nine varieties which stand from three to four feet in height, very thick on the ground and pushing from the foliage they will make excellent fodder. A large acreage has been sown broadcast this summer, and the management here to be able to tend them for themselves. Among the cultivated grasses, the following were in the field: Hungarian force plant, Kentucky blue grass, Hard Fescue, Meadow Fescue, and Orchard Grass. All these are perfectly hardy, and of good quality although the latter is very short. The success obtained by this farm in growing clover has been a surprise to all the farmers of this country. Sainfoin, Lucerne, Mammoth Red, Alsike and White Dutch are doing well, the Sainfoin and Mammoth Red especially. Tests are being made for mixed grains for fodder oats and peas promise to take the lead, followed by vetches and peas and barley and peas. Large quantities of alfalfa have been received from widely distributed districts and are being sown under different conditions, and promise well. It is also a large number of newly introduced grasses and fodder plants from Italy are being tested.

There are thirty six varieties of corn, being tested on duplicate plots one on old and the other on new ground. The yield promises to eclipse the yield of last year. Five varieties of mangolds, turnips and carrots are also undergoing test, also 120 varieties of potatoes, some of these having been originated on the farm, others imported from Ontario and Great Britain. A thorough test of the silo system will be made on the farm during the coming season. It is proposed to use one exclusively for corn, the other for corn and silage, the other for corn and silage and the other for corn and silage.

TEARS, ETC.

The native maples, which comprise about 850 trees in all, are indeed a surprise to all visitors. The loss for the year 1890 was about 7 p. c., year 1891 was about 4 p. c. and this year it will be about 1.5 p. c., which shows that these trees can be grown in this country. This should encourage the farmer to try them and adorn their farm with such trees. There are also growing on the farm about 70,000 trees of different varieties, and thousands of young seedlings just appearing above ground. One of these Mr. Bedford expects to have a large number to distribute amongst the farmers of this province next spring. The native spruce is also doing well and has a very refreshing appearance.

FEET.

Mr. Bedford is not able to state yet as to the advisability of planting apple trees, and would not advise any farmer to invest much, until a more thorough examination has been made. Although the Transcendental, Hyslop, Whitney and Orange are perfectly hardy and thrifty. Among small fruit the Turner and Philadelphian raspberries and hardy and good bearers. Hibernian Black Cap are also planted with fruit. Of course all the varieties of currants do not bear, owing to the frost being killed during the early part of this spring. There are 8 varieties of strawberries undergoing test, of which the Crescent seedling is decidedly the best, that has been tested so far, although all the other varieties bear well. Mr. Bedford will always be pleased to show any person around the farm, and give full information. He is greatly pleased that so many farmers especially have taken advantage of this offer, and the number is increasing rapidly. During the past month the number of visitors have been five times more than the corresponding month of last year. It is the general opinion of all that have visited the farm, that the selection of this site was a very wise one, making it an easy access from any part of the province. Having a variable soil, it enables them to test the products both in light and heavy soil. During the past week a large farmer from Ontario visited the farm and remarked that this farm was a great deal beyond his expectation in this far North West Country, and was superior to any of the experimental farms in Ontario and Quebec.

REGARDING POCKETS.

Difficult Things for Tailors and Dress-makers to Handle Well. The present pocket, both for ladies and gentlemen, is an extremely difficult feature to make thoroughly well, both in dress-making and in tailoring, says the London Telegraph. There is a story of an English couturier who thought that she had all but perfected herself in the art of dressmaking, but who took a trip to Paris in order to go through a final course of instruction in the atelier of a celebrated robe artiste. She paid a handsome fee for a year's instruction, and after signing articles she was put to what seemed to her the frivolous task of inserting a pocket in a dress. When she had finished her task "madame" shook her head with kindly gravity and told her artful pupil that the mystery of pocket-making had yet to be learned. It is a fact that the devoted student was kept for six whole months toiling at pockets; at the expiration of that period she was permitted to try her hand at sleeves, and she returned to England a sadder but wiser seamstress, destined, however, it is to be hoped, to blossom into a court dress-maker of the grandest type.

As with ladies' pockets so it is in degree with those of gentlemen. Man-kind desires its trousers pockets, its coat and overcoat, and vest pockets to be conveniently placed, easy of access and not given to getting unsewn. To be perfect they should be entirely unobtrusive. The Emperor Alexander I. of Russia, when he was in Paris, was desirous of having his nether garments made by a famous "couturier," who had supplied Napoleon with his buckskins. "But the pockets?" said the Emperor, when the tailor had finished measuring him. "I am sure," replied the "couturier," "that I should not know where to put pockets unless I cut them in your Majesty's flesh." The czar was more amused than angered by the explanation. "But the other one, Napoleon," he pursued, "what did he do for breeches pockets?" "His adieu-de-camp were his pockets," replied with quiet dignity the small-clothes artist.

Latter breeches-makers may have thought out some means of maintaining symmetry while providing pockets in buckskins or cords, but, speaking broadly, the resources of the tailor are taxed to the very utmost in designing pockets which shall hold what a gentleman requires without pushing themselves into objectionable prominence. There are a great many things that we are bound to find room for in our pockets. Happily, we are absolved from the necessity of carrying revolvers beneath our garments, but it frequently happens that a small silver flask, holding some form of alcohol, occupies a modest place in a traveler's pocket, and of course he must have due receptacles for his cigar case, his keys, his handkerchief, and, if he be well stricken in the vale of years, his spectacles. It is only the entirely competent and long-experienced coat artist who knows how these pockets shall be placed and what shall be their exact breadth and depth. Thus to the practical sartorial eye a breast-pocket may really appear "ridiculous." It may be the depth of an inch, two high, two low, too narrow or too broad. It may be "too straight in the fore part," or just a hair's breadth too much askew for symmetry or for comfort; but it is a pity that the estimable artists in coats can not settle their estimable little difference without bringing the refinements of their craft into the law courts.

QUEER PLAYFELLOWS.

The Fun a Brook's Dog and Cat Have with Each Other.

It is generally supposed that dogs and cats are natural enemies, but if taught not to regard each other in that light, they will generally be found, when living in the same house, to be very good friends. A half-grown cock-dog and a kitten a few months old, living together in Brooklyn, have as much fun with each other as if both were dogs or cats. It is amusing to see how both enjoy the play, while each frolics in its own way. The moment the kitten comes into the room the dog makes a bound for her as if he would eat her. Pass throws herself on her back, all four paws ready for use, showing at once that she receives him as a friend.

The dog seizes her by the throat, shakes her as he would an old shoe, and drags her around the room, growling as if he were engaged in the most serious fight. Pass shows her teeth, licks back her ears, and apparently she, too, is serious in making his treatment. But there are her four paws with their full supply of claws, which she does not use. She boxes his ears now and then, and pushes against his body, but her claws are sheathed.

Soon the dog drops her throat, snatches at an ear, a leg, or the tail, and drags her around and around until she thinks she has enjoyed his rough dog-play long enough, and then she instantly puts an end to the fun by a little—very little—scratch across the nose.

Instantly the dog drops her, and runs whining to his mistress, while the kitten rises and walks off with the calmness and dignity of an old cat. But he's ready to begin again the next minute, and so in fact is she.

UNINVITED VISITORS.
It is to be hoped That All of Them Will Read This Article.

It seems as if measures ought to be taken to put an end to promiscuous visiting; in regard to which there is evidently no difference of opinion, writes a correspondent of the Country Gentleman.

In these days of incompetent servants and anxious housekeepers, even the dearest friends can not feel quite sure of a cordial welcome. But when a horde of uninvited guests precipitate themselves with colossal effrontery upon a quiet, and perhaps frugal family, it becomes a most exasperating and intolerable nuisance. It is worse, if possible, than taking boarders, because visitors expect to be entertained—and liberally entertained—in many cases.

One of the most hospitable of hospitable Westerners said that he gave up his home and endured a boarding-house, because he was "tired of keeping a hotel." Another gentleman declared that he would put a small-pox notice on his house if it would keep away undesired visitors. And one lady wrote to some friends urging them pathetically to visit her, because now she would like to have some one in her house "whose society she could enjoy."

A Western man, traveling with his wife and niece, thought it would be very fine to visit the Governor of a certain Eastern State. He never had seen any member of the family, but a niece of his had married one of his sons. He drove up to the house, and had his trunks deposited before the door. The Governor's wife, however, was a woman of dignity and determination, and the Western travelers did not see the inside of that stately mansion. They departed with trunks unpacked, and also with a good deal of wondering astonishment.

Of course, this cruelly destroys the beautiful halo surrounding the hospitable home with open doors ever ready for the entrance of "angels unawares."

But when good Robert Collier naively declares that he does not wish to "monopolize these angels," sinners surely may be pardoned if they, too, rebel.

Supposing each person should put this notice on his house—"No uninvited visitors received"—would even that be effectual?

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures those diseases which are brought on by impurities, such as skin diseases, sores and swellings.

But does not it cost up by the thousands of dollars, and 100 millions of pounds, of ourselves. Can it cost as well as though it had been recommended just for you?

It makes you see that thousands of people who have had Typhoid, and Scurvy, Eczema and Erysipelas, Catarrhs and Sores Eruptive, Itch, and Eruptions (Glands) are well today because they used it.

Suppose that this is so. Suppose that a quick-witted man was far seeing enough to know that to cleanse the blood was to cleanse the life. Suppose that by many experiments, and after many failures, he discovered this golden key to health, and that his faith in it for you is so strong that you can go to your druggist, buy a bottle, and if it doesn't help you, you can get your money returned—cheerfully. Will you try it?

The remedy to have faith in, is the makers themselves have faith in.
